

The Chairman/Managing Director of leading short term IT and AV rental group Hire Intelligence International Limited (ASX code: HII) has decided to accept a salary reduction to $50,000 per annum plus super with effect from 1 December 2010. There are no other changes to his remuneration package or terms of employment.

This has a material impact on Hire Intelligence's profit expectations as not only does it save on salary costs but also results in bringing back to profits over-provisions for annual and long service leave.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Tom Cragg', is positioned above the printed name.
